that the Republican Presidential nomination will be worth having in 1916, plans are under way in various quarters to further the interests of candidates. It may be stated upon authority that a tentative fration has been formed in the outh for one prominent Republican, and In due season this particular boom will be launched. Others will appear soon after minatio- there will be at least sixteen candidates, representing twelve States. The men whose names now are under consideration in various puarters for the honor are the following: Hughes Hends List.

Maho-William E. Borah Wisconsin-Robert M. La Pollette. Nebraska-George W. Norrie. Pennsylvania-Gov. Brumbaugh.

Many Republicans also favor the nomation of either Senator Root, of New York, or Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts. However, Mr. Root is believed to be out of it on account of his age, and for the further reason that he presided at the Taft convention of 1912. Most leaders are inclined to believe that Mr. Lodge is not happily situated in a geographical way. Tatt and T. R. Eliminated.

By common consent Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt appear to be eliminated by practically all the leaders. It is felt that the nomination of either would simply revive the old fight of two years ago, and make the success of the party extremely doubtful from the start. So far as the Presidential nomination is concerned Mr. Whitman appears to be weaker in New York than he is chewhere the eyes of politicians everywhere, whatever opinion may be entertained at home as to his calibre. It seems to be taken for granted that William Barnes will do everything in his power to land the nation for Mr. Whitman.

Already a movement in the interests of Republican Leader Mann has been started. Some weeks before the election friends of Mr. Mann in the South began the work of lining up

Senator Borah, of Idaho; Senator Pollette, of Wisconsin, each has his Turkish Diplomat Regards It Smith, of Michigan, and Senator La eve on the Presidential election.
